

A new chapter in Deltaserat legacy

The entire world is at a standstill as everyone is doing their best to avert COVID-19. We urge you to stay safe and stay home. However, this pandemic cannot stop time. It is almost the middle of April, which means only one thing: we need to start looking for new additions to the Deltaserat Board 2020/2021. Below you will find the details of each role, which should help you identify what kind of characteristics we're looking for in a board. Also, you are more than welcome to contact one of us if you have any questions regarding the board.

DELTASERAT BOARD

How to apply

If you would like to be considered for the new Deltaserat board, please contact Bas, our current Chairman (voorzitter@deltaserat.com). In order to officially apply as a candidate, please send in your resume by 15 May, 2020. After having a look at your resume we will have a follow-up casual interview with you to see which role you might fit with best. If you already know what role you prefer to have in the board, let us know in the e-mail. Below you will find descriptions of each of the board roles.

Please note: for year 2020/2021 we have decided to have five members in the board, as the Manager of Internal/External Affairs position will be split in two.

Treasurer

As treasurer, you are the gatekeeper of Deltaserat's bank account, maintaining a close eye on what goes in and what comes out. You will be documenting Deltaserat's income and expenses by keeping tabs on receipts and handling invoices, which fall under the tasks of bookkeeping. The treasurer works alongside the external affairs manager and the ACLO board regarding issues like the rent of the dojo and subsidies.

One of the more hands-on interactions with members entails the collection of monthly and semester membership contributions (done through the Internet in the 21st century). Another important task of the treasurer is writing the financial year report. The financial committee will be your faithful minions as you complete your treasurer duties, supporting you in the completion of tasks and checking your work where necessary.

Secretary

As the secretary, you will handle all the administrative tasks of the association. This can include: filling in forms requested by the ACLO as well as reserving locations for board or official meetings. During these meetings, you will take minutes so that we can look back and find what has been discussed. At the end of the year, you will write a secretarial yearly report, which documents what the board has achieved over the course of a year. Finally, you are required to keep the member's list (ours and ACLO's) up to date.

Manager of Internal Affairs

The manager of internal affairs is our very own overly qualified party planner. In this role, your best buddy will become our fellow manager of external affairs, as communication between the 2 of you will be vital. Firstly, you will be governing the Deltaserat Facebook group explicitly (note that it does not say 'page').

This is important as here our members will get to see our fighters's success: videos of their fights, cool pictures at events and descriptions of their victories (information that should never be shown on the public Facebook page). As the name suggests, you are responsible for the inner workings of the club and our members' happiness levels. Socials, hungry fighters, parties and more should be showing up on your agenda left and right. You will also be planning one of the biggest events of the year for our members: the yearly Deltaserat day-trip/barbecue (take us somewhere fun where we can eat and goof off). Finally, announcing all of these events and more will be your top priority, as some members need multiple reminders in order to show up. For your final task, the creation of the monthly newsletter, you are welcome to borrow the 'editor minion' from the PR committee.

Manager of External Affairs

As the manager of external affairs, you will be acting as the communications line between Deltaserat members and the outside world, making sure to keep the club's best interests in mind. You will be planning martial arts/self-defense workshops for associations that reach out to Deltaserat as well as organizing workshops for our own members (if you encounter trainers who have something new to teach us).

You will also be planning exchanges with associations in order to obtain a few pictures of our members attempting to pole dance. You will be working alongside the chairman and/or treasurer in contacting the ACLO for things like dojo registry. Participation and organization in KEI and ESN week will become one of the significant events in your life. When taking on this role you will find yourself spending more time on your phone than you thought possible as you will be governing our Facebook, website and Instagram page. Lastly, you will be the head of your very own PR committee, where you will have designers, photographers/videographers and editors at your disposal.

Chairman

The chairman of the board is the leading figure of the association. You keep the structure in the board, organize meetings when necessary, divide tasks between the other board members, check overall progress and whether those tasks have been fulfilled. But just because you lead, doesn't mean you don't have to do anything; you are able to pitch in and help your fellow board members out when needed. Aside from this, you'll often be contacted by the ACLO, so you also play an important role in communications. Lastly, the chairman is considered responsible for the actions of Deltaserat.
